

For My Husband...

Thank You for my husband, Lord, I need Your guidance and wisdom to be a godly wife. Help me to trust that You will provide all I need to be the wife You have called me to be. I need You Lord, my life is in Your hands for You are the Author of all that exists. You are life! Help me to seek You for all that concerns me for my husband. You know him intimately more than I ever could. You love him more than I can even fathom. My husband belongs to You — You created him and gave him life, every breath he takes is a gift from You. He is Yours. I surrender my desires and hopes for him into Your gracious and loving hands.

Lord, salvation is found in no one else. You are the Name above all other names, Jesus, the name by which we are saved. More than anything Lord, I pray that _____ will know YOU. Lord, reveal Yourself to him in such a way that he cannot deny Your love. Please make Yourself known Lord, for to know You is to love You and to love You is to trust You. If my husband is tempted to doubt your enduring love please turn his heart towards You. When he seeks to fill his life with the things of this world that can never satisfy please draw him into the well of Your presence where true joy is found. Intervene in the midst of my husband's daily life so that he takes notice that You are God and there is no other.

As You watch over _____ life, please Lord, keep him from being deceived and tempted by false doctrine and bad theology. Help _____ to come to the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ. Open his heart and mind to the truth so that he can see and know that You are who You say You are.

Jesus...be my husband's first love. Captivate him.

You are the Word that became flesh and dwelt among us. Please hide Your Word in _____ heart so that he will not sin against You. But when he does choose to disobey, help him to repent and seek forgiveness so that times of restoration and forgiveness will come. Give my husband a passion for Truth, a passion for Your Word — the Bible. Fill him with wisdom, understanding, knowledge and discernment. Please help him to seek You with all his heart and not stray from Your commands. Draw _____ into the fullness of who You are through reading and meditating on Scripture. Help him not to be just a hearer of Your Word but a doer as well. Put Your truths into practice in his life.

_____ is fearfully and wonderfully made — help him to know that he is special to You; the apple of Your eye. Help him to know that You created him in Your image for a purpose that

You determined before he was even born. Though he may have many desires in his heart — it is Your purpose that will always prevail — please help my husband to know this. You have numbered his days and know every step along his journey of life. You know the intimate details of how my husband was woven together before he even took his first breath — You know him and You love him — please help him to grasp how wide and high and deep Your love is. _____ is a living expression of Your greatness, help him to glorify You in all that he does. Lord, open his eyes so that he can see that he is unique and loved beyond comprehension. Father, help my husband to be who You created him to be. Help him to put his confidence in You alone. Lord, please help him to delight in You so that You will give him the desires of his heart.

Father, fill _____ with the knowledge of Your love, compassion, justice, and sovereignty. You made us and we are Yours. All creation is laid bare before You; You see and know all things — that which is done in secret is not a secret to You. Keep my husband from darkness and secrecy. Bring all of his deeds into the light of Your grace and truth. Help him to run from the things in this world that would cause him to sin. Please, O Lord, keep him humble and contrite in heart. There is an enemy who lurks around every corner that wants to steal, kill, and destroy. Lord, help my husband to cling to You knowing that You will guard his heart and mind in Christ Jesus. The battle is Yours. When sin comes knocking at the door of his life, help _____ to run to You as fast as he can. Help him to be pure in heart, mind, and body. You are my husband's help and strong tower; a mighty fortress and shield.

You are the God of all comfort. (Isaiah 66:13). Life is full of disappointment, frustration, pain, and sorrow, but You are God. You work all things together for good for those who love You (Romans 8:28). You are the only one who knows exactly what we need when we need it. You are not a God of confusion but peace. When my husband needs comfort beyond what my heart and arms can give, please wrap him fully in Your love. Help him to know that You care about all that concerns him. Help him to cast all of his cares upon You and hide in the comfort of Your unfailing arms. You will never fail him — help my husband to know this. You will never leave him nor forsake him. Lord, You are faithful to all Your promises and loving toward all You have made (Psalm 145). You are near to all who call upon You. Please help my husband to call upon You at all times for all that concerns him. Help him to call out for You and know that You hear him. Give _____ confidence in Your sustaining power and love.

Help _____ to trust in You with all his heart, soul, mind and strength. Rescue him from the snare of the enemy and the ways of this world. Help my husband to not be anxious about anything, but in everything, seek You through prayer. When he is tempted to believe that You have abandoned him, please remind Him that You are near to those who call upon You. Though everything around _____ may be in complete chaos, You are his Stronghold and the Rock of his salvation. You will help him to stand firm, to persevere, and never give up hope. You have not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, love, and a sound mind (2 Timothy 1:7). Help my husband acknowledge You in all his ways and seek You with all his heart. When he is tempted by the things of this world remind him of the joy and satisfaction that can only be found in You. Your grace and life is sufficient for his every need and want; for his every desire. Oh Lord, help my husband to delight in You – and know that You will fulfill the desires of his heart. You will do immeasurably more than all I could ask or imagine in my husband's life – thank You Lord.

Forgiveness – oh Lord, help my husband to forgive every time. Keep unforgiveness, bitterness, and hatred far from him. Help him to know and understand the depth to which You have forgiven him through the blood of Your only Son, Jesus. Your love covers over a multitude of sins. Please allow Your great love to flow through my husband in such a way that love and forgiveness will be his first response to circumstances that cause pain. We will not escape this life without trials and strife. Help my husband to turn the other cheek, pray for his enemies, and love those who persecute him. Please let the radiance of Your incredible, unfailing love, and grace shine through _____.

When praise and thanksgiving is the last thing on _____ heart and mind, Lord please remind him of all that You are...all that You have done. Give him a heart of worship; where praise is the first thing on his tongue each morning and his last words before bedtime. Move his heart to rejoice in Your greatness. Help _____ to have a thankful heart that seeks to honor You at all times. You are the Giver of all good things. Everything that we have is Yours and apart from You, we have no good thing – You give us life and breath. You deliver us and rescue us. Fill his life with constant praise and thanksgiving, especially when times are difficult.

Father, all that we have is Yours. Help my husband to be generous – to give. Help him to give from the abundance that you have given him; his time, treasure, and talent. Oh Lord, that he would not give grudgingly, expecting anything in return – but that he would be a cheerful giver, that pleases You. When there is a need, help my husband to be the first to try and fill it. In all his giving, help him to always be mindful that everything he has is Yours. You own it all, even our very lives are Yours. Help my husband to be wise in how he chooses to give and seek You first in all things.

The Gospel is good news. Lord, please keep my husband from ever being ashamed of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Wherever his feet take him, bring Your message of salvation with him. Give him boldness whenever he opens his mouth to speak truth. Help _____ to always be ready to give a reason for the hope that is hidden in his heart. Let the words from his mouth and the meditations of his heart please You, Lord. Please help my husband to be courageous and gracious when given the opportunity to share and confess that Jesus is Lord. If he trusts in You he will never be put to shame. Father, help _____ to believe, and forgive him for his unbelief. Forgive him, when he doubts You, Lord. More than the words from his mouth, Father I pray that my husband's life will be the living Gospel, that people would see Jesus in my husband and want to know HIM.
